GOVERNOR MANN TO MAKE ADDRESS

Will Deliver Second of Series on Civic Problems at Nicholson School.

"The Duties of the Governor and How They are Discharged," will be the subject of an address to-morrow night at 8 o'clock at Nicholson School, Fulton, by Governor Mann. This will be the second of a series of lectures on civic problems, the first of which was made by Mayor Ainslie, whose topic was "The City Government."

Former Congressman F. H. Garber will introduce Governor Mann, who will be escorted to the school building by a committee of citizens. It is the aim of Principal S. P. Duke, of Nicholson, to make the school freely serve the social service of the community and to make it a social center, not only in the city, but in the county. This idea is based upon the knowledge that the school building can be used for purposes other than direct class instruction; that the educational process is being constantly carried forward by many forces and institutions; that the school, and that the period of education itself is not youth alone, but coincident with the length of life. It is expected that the school authorities will be held up to its capacity. Children must be accompanied by one or both parents.

Held on the technical charge of suspicious characters, suspected of a crime, W. L. Hunt, twenty-three years old, and Herbert Cox, twenty-two years old, both of South Richmond, were arrested by Police Officer J. H. Ainslie, in Police Court, Part II, this morning. The two were held on a charge of assault on the person of a woman, who was held up and robbed last week on the north end of Main Street. They were arrested by Officers W. F. Wainwright and John B. Wainwright, and have been identified by Ainslie. They are being held in the city jail. A third member of the gang is being sought by the police. He is known, and a general alarm has been sent out for his arrest.

SERVE NOTICE ON COUNTY THIS WEEK

City Attorney to Notify Chesterfield and Henrico Authorities of Impending Annexation.

City Attorney Pollard will within the next day or two formally notify the Boards of Supervisors and the Commonwealth's attorneys of Chesterfield and Henrico counties of the city's intention to move the Circuit Court of Henrico County to enter an order authorizing and declaring the annexation provided for in the ordinance signed by Mayor Ainslie on Friday.

The same notice will be served upon the Mayors of the towns embraced in the annexation territory. A copy of the notice, together with the ordinance itself, will be published. The publication, it is expected, will begin this week. Under the law, the notice and ordinance must be printed at least once a week for four successive weeks.

When this is completed, the proof of it will be filed by the City Attorney with the clerk of the Circuit Court of Henrico County, and the case will then be docketed for hearing. Judge R. C. Scott will, under the provisions of the general annexation act, be disqualified from presiding over the hearings, and a judge from a remote section of the State will be designated by Governor Mann to sit in his place.

The judge will sit without jury, and all persons affected by the annexation act will have the right to appear and make themselves parties defendant to the case, and be represented by counsel. At the conclusion of the hearings, the judge will enter a decree embodying the final annexation plan, from which there will be no appeal, except to the Supreme Court of Virginia.

BIG CLASS ADOPTION

Indiana Tribe, of South Richmond, Hopes to Get 100 Candidates.

Plans for a big class adoption to be held on December 1 will be discussed to-night at the regular meeting of the Indiana Tribe, No. 52, Improved Order of Red Men, at Toney's Hall, Eleventh and Hull Streets, South Richmond. Resolutions will be served.

Indiana Tribe is now the largest tribe in the State, having a membership of more than 500. A membership campaign, with the 100 mark as its goal, is now in progress. All candidates secured during the campaign will be adopted on the same night, at which time it is planned to have a big celebration.

GOVERNOR MANN SPEAKS

Addresses Richmond Neighborhood Association, Compliments Its Work.

Governor Mann last night delivered the principal address before the Richmond Neighborhood Association in the Ebenezer Baptist Church, colored. He was introduced by Robert Lecky, Jr., president of the association. Governor Mann made a splendid talk to the colored people, complimenting them on their efforts for the race, and urging them to greater work. Mr. Lecky paid a high tribute to the work of the Richmond Neighborhood Association, especially to its campaign department for girls.

TERMINAL TO AID IN HOLIDAY RUSH

Richmond Post-Office Will Be Taxed to Capacity Christmas. Expect Enormous Business.

With the inauguration of the railway terminal station on Saturday at the local post-office, Postmaster Edgar Allan, Jr., and Assistant Postmaster Ross B. Southward are considerably relieved, as one of the biggest problems of the post office is practically solved. The railway mail service employees will be a great assistance in the distribution of local parcels, and will practically take the routing of outgoing mail out of the hands of the post-office people.

Notwithstanding the new terminal facilities, the holiday rush this year, it is expected, will fully tax the capacity of the local force, which for a city of this class is admitted to be unexcelled. Every precaution to handle the mail matter with dispatch is being taken, and the new innovations will be put into operation.

To assist in the rush on the parcel post department, special clerks will be on duty in the corridors. They will weigh parcels and mark the amount of postage on them. All that will be necessary for the sender to do is to buy the stamps and hand the parcel in through the window. This plan, it is expected, will relieve the congestion at the windows.

The post office department has prepared a large poster, which will contain all information in regard to all classes of mail. It will show exactly what writing may be put on the packages, how to address them, and numerous other things that are necessary to the sender. These posters will not only be put up in the main and branch offices, but will be sent to other prominent public places. A requisition for a number of these posters has been made, and they will be displayed as early as possible.

A large force of extra employees will be put on duty early next month, in order that they can familiarize themselves with the work before the rush begins. About ten extra delivery wagons for the parcel post department will also be secured. This will be the first Christmas that the department has been in operation, and it is almost impossible to estimate just what it will be called upon to do. The Post-Office department is urging the "small early" policy, and will permit stickers advising the receiver not to open until Christmas and other like messages to be affixed to the packages, so that they can be sent before the last day.

CHARGE RAFFLING

Confectioner Arrested for Selling Candies to Minors.

Harry Levy, a confectioner of 420 Louisiana Street, was arrested early last night by Detectives G. P. Smith and Bryant on the charge of promoting a lottery, in that he raffled candy. At the First Police Station, Levy was held for his appearance this morning in Police Court. A quantity of candy and paraphernalia alleged to be used in raffling was confiscated by the officers, and will be submitted when the case is called for trial.

Chief of Police Werner recently called the attention of all members of his department to the law prohibiting raffling and other games of chance.

ANOTHER TRY AT BRIDGE APPROACH

Public Buildings Subcommittee Tackles Baffling Problem at Special Meeting.

TO HEAR MOSCHETTI CLAIM

Subcommittee May Investigate Alleged $1,500 Damage From City Dump.

Preliminary plans for the latest Council attempt to secure an opening to the northern end of the Mayo Bridge will be discussed at a meeting of a special subcommittee from the Committee on Public Buildings, Properties and Utilities at 5 o'clock to-morrow afternoon. Chairman Moschetti, of the Mills, of Jefferson Ward, who has throughout maintained an aggressive policy in the matter of the northern bridge approach, is chairman.

The subcommittee has before it a joint resolution referred from the Council authorizing the City Attorney to acquire, through the usual channels, the property along Fifteenth and Dock streets, from the city for opening a wide thoroughfare to the bridge. A former attempt along similar lines resulted in condemnation proceedings, which were later dismissed by order of the Council. Chairman Mills hopes to enlist the co-operation of the property owners in a new plan by which the city will pay reasonable damages for some of the property acquired, and will trade for other land certain municipal properties located near Fifteenth and Dock Streets. The scheme will be worked out in more detail at to-morrow's meeting.

To Take Up Moschetti Case.

The Committee on Claims will meet at 5 o'clock this afternoon to consider a bulky docket, including a claim for $1,500 preferred against the city by E. Moschetti for a fire loss he claims to have suffered as the result of the city's carelessness in draining a mable refuse near his property. Fire from a burning dump near the intersection of Ashland and Lombard Streets, it is claimed, was communicated to a building located on Moschetti's property, resulting in the total destruction of the building and valuable contents. The matter will probably be referred to a subcommittee for investigation.

Other Council meetings scheduled for this week are: Public Buildings, Properties and Utilities, subcommittee, 8 o'clock to-night; Finance and Public Buildings, Properties and Utilities, 8 o'clock to-morrow night; and Ordinances, 8 o'clock Thursday night.

SICK MAN WANDERS OFF

Robert Swift Spends Night in Open, and May Die From Exposure.

Just after plans for dragging the canal for his boat were completed, Robert Swift, twenty-six years old, was found in a semiconscious condition behind a billboard near Westham, on the Chesapeake and Ohio canal, yesterday. He was taken to his home at Westhampton during an attack of illness on Saturday afternoon, and it is supposed that he had been in the open for nearly a week. His friends feared that he had fallen into the canal, and Officer R. L. Bondall, of Henrico County, who spent a whole night searching for him, had made arrangements for dragging the water when Swift was found. He was taken to his home, where he is under the care of a physician. His condition is serious as he had been ill for more than a week from a nervous disorder. It is feared that the exposure may prove fatal.

In Hastings Court, Part II.

Arrested for Stabbing.

Mary Carter, colored, was arrested yesterday by Bicycle Policemen Thursday on the charge of stabbing Mary Brown.

CORONER TAYLOR'S STAFF STANDS BY HIM TO A MAN

A philosopher of an ancient school, Dr. William H. Taylor, City Coroner, has had for his life's direction that maxim, promulgated nearly 2,000 years ago, "Blessed is he that expecteth nothing, for he shall not be disappointed."

So, if the coroner is disappointed, which meets to-morrow night, decides to act favorably on the motion of Councilman Lumsden to raise his salary from $2,250 to $3,000, he will be pleasantly surprised; and, if not, well, he will fall back on his proverb for comfort.

The office of Coroner bears a peculiar relation to the city. It has no perquisites. The coroner has practically nothing, for he shall not be disappointed. ## Special Protection

People unacquainted with banking methods do not realize the care taken by the United States Government for the protection of depositors in National Banks. The shareholders are doubly liable for the amount of stock owned by them. This is one reason why you should patronize a bank of large capital. You should also consider the proportion of liabilities to the capital. If there is anything you do not understand, come, and we shall take pleasure in explaining any banking point.

CHAMBER TO HEAR FAMOUS PROMOTER

W. H. Manss Will Explain Aims of Southern Settlement and Development Organization.

HAVE DINNER AT JEFFERSON

Richmond Business Men Have Been Invited to Big Affair, To-Morrow Night.

W. H. Manss, vice-president and general manager of the Southern Settlement and Development Organization, will be the guest of honor at a dinner to be given to-morrow night by the Chamber of Commerce at the Jefferson Hotel, at which he will explain the movement this association has in view, and its importance and benefit to this particular section.

Mr. Manss was appointed to the position in March, and has been actively at work since that time in preaching the aims of the organization to the people of the South. It will be his first visit to this city for that purpose.

Mr. Manss was born in Cincinnati, and is about forty-three years old. He received his early education in the public and high schools of that city, later graduating from Wittenburg College, Springfield, O. He is also a graduate from Yale and was for some time a student at Oxford University, England, and for two and a half years took a course in economics at the University of Berlin.

He has been engaged in industrial and agricultural matters for many years, and organized in 1903, the Industrial department of the Chicago, Burlington and Quincy Railway system, and spent five years in that connection. He was highly successful in developing the agricultural and mining resources of the territory traversed by that system, and located a number of other land and mining industries.

Originator of Demonstration Train.
Mr. Manss, with Professor W. G. Hogen, then agricultural professor at the Iowa State Agricultural College, originated the familiar seed and soil special train that has been largely adopted by railroads throughout the United States and Canada. During these trips Mr. Manss covered the entire United States, and traveled more than 15,000 miles. He was instrumental also in starting short-term courses for farmers at various agricultural colleges.

Mr. Manss left the Burlington line to take up and organize a civic association for the Chicago Association of Commerce. He also organized and perfected the National Wool Warehouse among the wool-growers of the West, and thus assisted the grower to obtain a fair market value for his product, and as a result enable Chicago to store and sell 40,000,000 pounds more wool than it did before the wool-growers were organized. He led the association to engage in business for himself.

STOLE AND SOLD BOOZE

Negro Faces Charge of Larceny and Running "Blind Tiger."

Levi Rose, colored, an old offender, was arrested yesterday by Patrolmen Smith and Quinn on the charge of stealing twelve quarts of whiskey and selling liquor without a license.

Rose is alleged to have gone to the saloon of J. M. Hulcher, St. James and Leigh Streets, and stolen a quantity of liquor, which he sold yesterday. Most of the alleged stolen goods were recovered and will be used as evidence against Rose when he is arraigned in Police Court.

There is considerable talk of another railway line from the New Road, out the Broad Rock Road, to Falling Creek, where, it is said, a pleasure park will be started. Subscriptions have been opened, and a right of way has been secured. This line would meet the Hull Street extension at the intersection of the Broad Rock and New Road, and will pass through a fine territory.

Although now entirely beyond the corporate limits, the whole of the Hull Street extension will be in the city, providing the present scheme of annexation is followed. A shuttle service of ten minutes will be maintained on it.

MISS DOPE WOULD FOUND LOCAL CHAPTER OF SPUTS

Seeks Ten Richmond Women to Sign Confession of Faith of Society for the Prevention of Useless Trimming—Henrico County Chapter Has Forty Members.

Cinderella Dope, Sputter-in-chief of the Henrico County Sputs, tripped into the office last night, her eyes alight with a new evangelism. It was easy to see that the daughter of the Henrico County farmer-philosopher was on a chapter of the Sputs.

"I want to organize a Richmond chapter of the Sputs," said Miss Dope, coming to the point with commendable directness, "and I need your help. I am a Sputter-in-chief of the Henrico County chapter, and we have forty members. We ought to be able to enlist at least 2,000 Sputs in Richmond."

It was necessary at this point to remind Miss Dope that while the Order of Sputs was without doubt a fine organization, neither its name nor its mission had penetrated to Richmond. It would be hard to enlist the support of Richmond women, it was pointed out to Miss Dope, before it was made entirely clear whether the Sputs proposed to civilize Russia, encourage the use of union suits, or provide a haven for homeless cats.

"The Sputs, as you will observe by the letters composing the name, S-P-U-T-S," answered Miss Dope, rigidly, "is the Society for the Prevention of Useless Trimming, and its sole object is to discourage some women from decorating their hats with fifteen-inch pheasant tails and turkey feathers. I don't see any occasion for your levity, and assure you that we are serious. In Henrico County, since the organization of our chapter, we women of social standing at all is wearing a feather over three inches."

Miss Dope was assured that, so far from feeling badly over so weighty a thing as overgrown feathers, the members of the Sputs were actually

OPERATE CARS TO BROAD ROCK ROAD

Half-Mile Extension of Hull Street Line Is Used for First Time Yesterday.

Cars were run over the half-mile extension of the Hull Street line of the Virginia Railway and Power Company for the first time yesterday morning. Although adding a whole mile to their run, the cars were able to maintain the regular round trip schedule all day without difficulty. It is probable, however, that another regular car will be put on the line on weekdays, as the heavy crowds and necessity of stopping at particular points by every corner, and delay on busy days may prove too much for a fifty-minute round trip schedule.

The new stretch of track runs from the end of Hull Street, Clay Street, out the New Road to the Broad Rock Road. It opens up a territory capable of great development. The franchise was granted one year ago, and its construction began six months later. Since the construction started the property in the vicinity of the line has been selling rapidly and a number of new homes have been erected.

There is considerable talk of another railway line from the New Road, out the Broad Rock Road, to Falling Creek, where, it is said, a pleasure park will be started. Subscriptions have been opened, and a right of way has been secured. ## PARAGRAPH PULPIT

The New Christianity—Practical.

The new religion will very earnestly seek to build up the kingdom of heaven on earth. And it will be wise enough to see that to accomplish this it must first down ignorance and build up knowledge; right down slavery and build up freedom; right down exploitation and build up justice. Therefore it will be interested in such practical questions as schools, civic order, social justice, industrial betterment, the putting of conscience into business and the working principle into politics.—Unitarian Publicity Committee.—Advertisement.
